

A fine pair of silver mounted holster pistols by Collumbell

Sold

Description

A pair of mid 18th century flintlock, silver mounted pistols by Collumbel. The walnut stocks with a silver trophy of arms and a silver mask to the butt. Signed on both the barrels and the locks Collunbell was a highly regarded maker in the 18th century and made a pair of pistols for George III, still in the royal collection.